Briar Patch

First Year Anne Benham lets her voice be heard during the year's first Karaoke night.

Even in late September, wildflowers bloom around Sweet Briar's campus, reminding us of the natural beauty that surrounds us each day.

First Year Christina Burroughs smiles in anticipation of her next match during one of the tennis team's first meets of the year.

First Years and their Group Leaders try to stay cool at the lake during Orientation Week. Groups like this were frequently spotted playing "name games" and bonding through many activities which, in some cases, formed friendships that will last long after they have graduated.

First Years and Group Leaders take part in the traditional spiral activity that brings orientation week to a close.

Spending part of her summer in Egypt, Senior Rachel Souder-Arguedas has the opportunity to ride camelback in the Sahara Desert, Morocco.

Junior Jill Tremblay ponders not the spiral tradition, but rather how did she wind up holding four bottles of Pepsi?

First Years Katie Barnett and Cat Wilson share a good laugh with the familiar Vixen mascot.

Junior Sophie Wackenhut, Senior Audrey Dickson, and Juniors Sarah Ryder, Arney Walker, Tamara Young, Christi Rose, Julia Rowland, Misa Sarmiento, and Donyele Gibson gather before a Dell Party.

Proving that Founders' Day can be fun, Seniors Annie Ortengren, Elizabeth Finch, and Katy Kruschwitz freeze in a Charlie's Angels pose atop Monument Hill.

Tara Conte, Kim Martin, Katy Hartman, Brianne Harvey, and Kim Martin dry off with two Marines after the Marine Mud Run 5K in Roanoke, Virginia.

First Years Aimee Bussells and Anne Matthias take time away from Prothro and enjoy a meal together in Lynchburg.

Though balancing a pillow is not a common sight in particular, First Year Erin Oxford shows that antics on dorm floors are frequently the stress relief that everyone needs.

Milos Minajlovic, Jennea LeDuc, Courtney Arnott, Shirley Pinson, Tiffany Williamson, Sarah Reynolds, Mara Wegerski, Gilli Lon, and Hilary Pool relax at the Pat McGee Band concert in Lynchburg.

Seniors Megan Thomas, Sarah Diefenderfer, Brianne Harvey, Kate Talaber, Sophomore Lanette Ervin, and Senior Angela Rodriguez spend some quality time together.

Juniors Arney Walker, Becky Lewis, and Megan Tarnowski bask atop Spy Rock after their successful and steep climb.

First Years Kimberly Sanver, Grace Farnsworth, Jennifer Clark, and Sadie Garnache-Poirier munch on a "midnight" snack.

Livening up the action,
field hockey players
rally against the 21-20
guest's lead.

Sophomore Kristin Aneralla rows a boat on the Avon River during the theatre department's summer trip to London.

A well-known symbol on campus, a hitching post stands at the entrance to the Quad.

Juniors Joanna Mullen, Christina Kingsley, Jee Park, Jill Tremblay, Amy Mullen, Jaime Henna, and Megan Ogilvie take a moment to lounge on the Junior Bench for a picture by Lindsay Keller before friends C.K. and Jee leave for Scotland and Spain.

Turning Point and Day Students Jennifer Hatter, Jaime Oliver, and Sarah Ogden cook out at the Boathouse.

Junior Amanda Barbour stands with Big Ben and the Parliament in the background during the theatre department's trip to see various plays and musicals in London.

Juniors Tamara Young and Sophie Wackenhut spend time with Tamara's horse, Sass. It is common for students to bring their horses with them to Sweet Briar.

Numerous people gather in front of the band during a Dell Party.

First Years Katie Barnett and Erin Oxford congratulate each other on good rides in the year's first In-House Horse Show.

Reid's pillars stand tall above the entrance as a classic example of Sweet Briar's architecture.

Juniors Sophie Wackenhut, Becky Lewis, and Misa Sarmiento take a break from hiking at Great Falls in Maryland.

First Years Kelli Bergmann and Misty Vandergriff settle in shortly after Orientation Week and can be seen -- as many roommates frequently are -- working side by side at their computers.

Briana Beckham, Lindsay Kinyon, Carrie Deshazor, and Anne Benham all dress up for the Aint's and Asses Dress Up Day.

Gray's Bell Tower is a Sweet Briar landmark. Many times it can be spotted with a tap club's banner hanging up either the day following tap night or to advertise a club-sponsored event.

Juniors Jill Tremblay, Jee Park, Joanna Mullen, Lindsay Keller, Amy Mullen, and Megan Ogilvie model personality-matching headwear in an Alexandria, VA hat store.

A juggler prepares for his next trick as he gets initial help balancing, and as Senior Sonya DeConinck watches.

The Earphones
sing as loud as possible at K a r a o k e night, making it clear why they were all tapped into the club.

The focus of many photographs, the breezeway between Gray and Benedict lights up between columns with the setting sun's rays.

Field hockey players
start this game with action and a lead for Sweet Briar.

Two giant ducks oversee the activity at the Annual Rubber Duck Race on the Great Rappahannock River in Fredericksburg, VA. Close to Sweet Briar, it's one of many area events that provide "weekend getaways" and road trips.

Tara Conte, Rebecca Waite, Liz Taylor, Kristin Aneralla, Amanda Barbour, Stacey Armentrout, and Lindsay Keller enjoy William Shakespeare's "home town," Stratford upon Avon.

First Years Cat Wilson and Anna Nicoliasen provide comic relief in between work and studying on Meta Glass Third Floor.

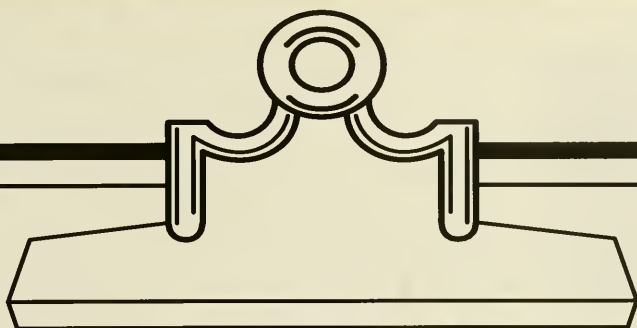

Senior Anne Lombardi glitters and shines in her self-made toga for the Reggae and Toga Dell Party.

As their smiles exhibit in front of Daisy's daisies, Seniors Angela Rodriguez, Kate Talaber, Megan Thomas, and Sarah Diefenderfer are delighted to be in the Class of 2001 for this year's Founders' Day.

Seniors Elizabeth Finch and Meg Eubanks "hang out" before a Deli Party.

I want to thank Cima, Cipa, Muthi, and Eckart in Germany for their loving help in making my dream of studying at Sweet Prior come true. Without you I wouldn't be here in this beautiful city. Also thank you to Mom and Dad from Erie, VA for accepting me as one of your kids. Who would I have thought that your "Eckler aus Deutschland" would make it so far?

Thanks to all my friends here at Sweet Prior, especially Angela, Megan, and Sara, and also to all the faculty and staff who helped me make my time here so special. I will never forget the greatest time of my life here at Sweet Prior.

Mom and Dad--I thank you for your love and support while I struggle to find what made me happy. I forget laughing at my own stupidity that caused my "what do I major in?" dilemma in the first place. I am forever grateful. Although this place frustrates me, I wouldn't trade my Sweet Briar experience for any amount of photography equipment. I'm trying to be brave, it's just taking some time... To my friends and professors who inspired me and who gave me swift kicks in the ass. I needed it, and I wouldn't be the same without your encouragement and faith in my abilities; thanks for being there.

Life has taken me to many places and filled my life with surprises that I would have never thought of 5 years ago in my short 24 years of life. I am thankful, and forever thankful to Mother, Father, brothers, sister and friends in Belize, to Mr. Flushtner for initiating the opportunity for me, and to my best family, The Mr. Jim Gales Family who gave me the opportunity of a life time, unconditional love and support. Thanks to these people I was able to spend the most beautiful four years of my life at Sweet Briar. It has not been easy, and I have certainly had my ups and downs, but for all the friends I have made, for all the people who have shaped my life and helped me through, it is all worth it and more. My heart will always have a special place for Sweet Briar, a special place for the friends I have made. I will miss you all and best wishes in the 'Real World'. See you at reunion, there will be lots of wine!! Eyes coming for adabank if ye come alone.

Thank you mom and dad for all your love, support, and encouragement. I love you does not come close to telling you how much you mean to me. To all my friends, there is too little space for me to begin to write down all of our precious memories, let alone tell y'all how special you are to me. These four years were the best of my life and you will always be close in my heart. I love ya'll and will miss you more than you'll ever know...Ciao!

Academic Affairs Committee

Consisting of the Chair, Vice-Chair, and student representatives, the Committee gathered suggestions and made recommendations for the improvement of academic programs.

Aints and Asses

Originally formed to imitate the productions of their rival tap club, Paint and Patches, the Asses mainly performed original skits to entertain students. They could also be seen dressed in wild attire to express their outrageous personalities as well as advertise campus events.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Established in 1991, Alpha Lambda Delta recognizes academic success in the first year of college.

Alternatives

Through education and action, Alternatives encouraged healthy intrapersonal and interpersonal relationships regarding sexual preference.

Co-Chairs: (Fall semester) Meredith Taylor, Heather Kacho
(Spring semester) Kate Bixby

American Chemical Society

The Student Affiliate of the American Chemical Society is nationally recognized with its primary goals focused to develop its members' professional opportunities.

President: Yen Nguyen

The Bums: (back row) Miss Rose, Miss Perlow, Miss Martin, Miss Thacker
(front row) Miss Ryder, Miss Tucker, Miss Wieland, Miss Sarmento, Miss Rowland

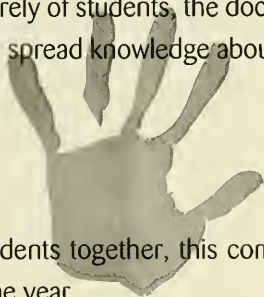

Amnesty International

Affiliated with the national organization, Amnesty's members worked to promote human rights and the awareness of such issues.

Art Gallery Docents

Comprised entirely of students, the docents gave exhibition tours, helped with local school activities, and, in general, spread knowledge about the Art Gallery around campus.

Arts Committee

Faculty and students together, this committee planned the College's concert series -- the Babcock Season -- for the year.

Bum Chums

Keeping with tradition, the Bums played the "game" with their rival tap club, the QV's. They were also visible hosting community service projects like a blood drive held at Sweet Briar.

Mother Superior: Miss Wieland

Keeper of the Scribe: Miss Sarmento

Keeper of the Exchequer: Miss Thacker

Campus Crusade for Christ

Through activities like small Bible Studies and large fellowships, Campus Crusade gave students the opportunity for Christian fellowship and to learn God's Word. They also sponsored Habitat for Humanity builds and Chaplain's Office activities for the entire student body.

President: Elizabeth Puckett

Campus Events Organization

Only one year old, the CEO picked up where the Student Activities Board left off. Working closely with Inter-Club, its members provided countless hours of entertainment through social, cultural, recreational, and educational means.

Cercle Francais

Spreading the interest in France, its people, and its culture, the French Club sponsored several gatherings. Among its events were film showings, lectures, crepe parties, and a weekly lunch table for informal French conversation.

President: Charlotte Elliott

The "Munglings": Georgette of the Jungle, Sagacious, Pikachu, Tiger Balm, Boo Berry Baby, and Bubbles

The Chung Mungs after tapping: (back row) Megan Ogilvie, Tana Malm, Ashley Trantham, Sophie Wackenhut, Jenn Stringfellow, Amy Mosher
(front row) Amy Mullen, Sarah Herndon, Joanna Slusser, Jaime Henna, Mary Beth Colvin

Chapel Committee

With the Chaplain as Chair, this committee designed programs to aid the spiritual, moral, and intellectual life of the campus. It also planned events to serve the Sweet Briar population in observing holidays.

Chung Mung Society

The Chung Mungs are thirteen juniors and seniors known for their friendliness and general interest in Sweet Briar. When they didn't pursue important campus and community projects, they would show their stiff rivals, the Tau Phi's, how to have fun and relax.

Presidents: Angela Aiken, Joanna Slusser

Circle K

Dedicated to service projects, Circle K sponsored many social activities independently and jointly with Kiwanis clubs and Key Clubs.

President: Kathy Pierce

Club De Español

By hosting discussions with students that studied and traveled abroad, showing films, playing games in Spanish, and sponsoring a weekly lunch table, the Spanish club made the culture and language of Latin America and Spain widely available for those who were interested.

President: Stephanie Sherrard

Club Italiano

Another of Sweet Briar's "language clubs," the Italian club was started in 1969. It has been spreading the heritage and culture of Italy and the enthusiasm of its members ever since through literary discussions, theatrical productions, as well as a weekly lunch table.

President: Virginia Leigh Uchello

College Republicans

In cooperation with the College Republican Federation of Virginia, this club's members were active at the local, state, and national levels. Their political interests were especially used during the election year to encourage students to register to vote.

Collegium

Also known simply as the Classics Club, this group was open to any and all students interested in the Greek and Roman influences in Western civilization.

Interclub Triumvir: Lys Burdette, Becky Cefaratti

Earphones

The loudest group on campus, the Earphones were frequently heard at events like Karaoke Night. Their high-spirited melodies proved to their rivals, the Sweet Tones, that there is more than one way to have fun carrying a tune.

Habitat for Humanity

Sweet Briar's chapter of the Amherst-based Habitat for Humanity, it coordinated volunteers for low-income housing builds and ran fundraisers for Habitat.

President: Courtney Burkey

Health & Wellness Committee

Serving as a discussion forum of health related issues and as an advisory board to the health service, the committee was again formed of faculty, staff, and two students from each class.

Lectures & Events Committee

In order to develop a cohesive academic and co-curricular program, the Lectures Committee investigated and chose several speakers and lecturers to fulfill various proposals around campus.

Nations United

Formed to promote international issues and cultures, Nations United members sponsored field trips and other activities to raise the student body's awareness.

Paint 'n' Patches

As part of Sweet Briar's theatrical club, PnP members worked to spread drama to the campus and to liven up their friendly rivalry with Aints and Asses. Responsible for much of the work on Babcock's mainstage productions -- from set design to acting, and from lighting to costuming -- they also contributed greatly to theatre majors' studio projects.

President: Sara Foltz

Phi Alpha Delta

An organization for any student interested in pursuing a career in the legal field or public leadership, Phi Alpha Delta had extensive connections and opportunities as one of the world's largest groups composed of law students, pre-law members, attorneys, legal educators, and elected officials.

President: Hillary Herlehy

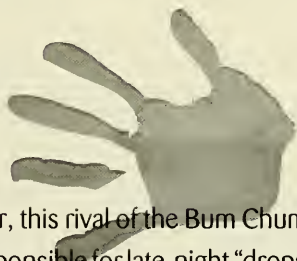

Pre-Med/Health Careers Club

President: Sarah Riggs

Psychology Club

Created for students interested in the field of psychology, this club created outlets for further study and exploration of the subject.

President: Joy Powell

Q.V.S

Chosen at the end of their first year, this rival of the Bum Chums is one of the most secretive and least rewarded tap club on campus. Responsible for late-night "drops" throughout the year to keep spirit high within their sophomore class, their most daunting task was to avoid being caught and revealed by the Bums. They are revealed to their classmates during Spring Step Singing.

Liaisons: Becky Lewis and Arney Walker

Red Clay

One of Sweet Briar's three publications, the Red Clay is published annually in the spring. As the college's literary magazine, it combines selected poetry, fiction and non-fiction, as well as art work by the students into one volume that is highly anticipated.

President: Hunter McOwen

Student Athlete Advisory Council

With a student member from each varsity sport and one Physical Education faculty member as a Department liaison, the Council was well equipped to handle sports issues, raise funds for travel, and meet prospective student athletes.

President: Erin Packard

Student-Athlete Mentors

Representing over 25% of students on campus, two Student-Athlete Mentors (SAMs) are elected by their teammates from six varsity sports. As part of the student-driven model started in 1994, the SAMs completed training and promoted responsible choices regarding alcohol, nutrition, and a healthy lifestyle.

Student Environmental Organization

SEO was formed in 1998, starting with the foundation created by SWEEP, in order to help promote environmental issues awareness. They also picked up the campus recycling program where it was left off by the former club.

Student Government Association

According to the Student Government Association's Constitution, through its officers, committees, and constitutional procedures, SGA is responsible for establishing, maintaining, and interpreting restrictions and policies regarding extracurricular and residence hall activities. To the general student body, SGA's activities are typically a mystery, but its members are the ones who keep Sweet Briar running behind the scenes. They run meetings, assist clubs and individuals, sponsor events, and affect changes for the betterment of the College.

Student Music Council

Organized to spread music awareness and involve students in the many aspects of music, the Council helped organize department performances and recitals, arranged transportation to local concerts, and supported Sweet Briar groups wishing to perform.

President: Amy Tabb

Student Riding Council

The Riding Council helped students improve their riding, increased awareness of the riding program for non-riders, and spread interest of events to the campus community. Its members are all riders who have earned the Trail Guide rank.

Head of Council: Christi Rose

Student Virginia Education Association

Only one year old as an established chapter, the SVEA is open to any students interested in education. The Association fosters concern for children's learning, professional growth and competence, and preparation for a career in education.

President: Aubrie Davis

Sue Reid Slaughter Committee

With administrators, faculty, and a representative from each class involved, this committee brings unique and unusual events to Sweet Briar using the Sue Reid Slaughter annual endowment income.

Sweet Briar Voice

As the campus newspaper, the Voice is published by the students throughout the year to cover a wide range of issues and events, both on and off campus. And, as it is run entirely by volunteers, it encourages any student to join who is willing to make a time commitment.

President: Kristin Farris

Sweet Tones

The student-run acappella group on campus, the Sweet Tones perform for the Sweet Briar and neighboring communities. They were involved with Families' Weekend and the Christmas Tree Lighting, and brought the campus community closer together with their performances.

President: Katherine Woodson

Members: Felicia Dunn-Burke, Michelle Dunn, Elizabeth Haeberle, Katy Hartman, Jamie Mays, Hunter McOwen, Ameka Reeves, Danielle Ross, Krista Schuler, Sarah Lyn Schultheis, (on sabbatical) Angela Aiken, Amanda Campbell, Nia Fonow, Sara Foltz

Taps 'n' Toes

Created in the 1986-87 school year, Taps 'n' Toes is the only dance club on campus. Its members, however, do not all dance -- membership is based on a general interest in dance and any help contributed to a concert. Their activities include fundraising for costumes and summer study, performing in nursing homes and schools, and promoting the dance concerts. They also strive to support the art of Dance by exposing the Sweet Briar community to new and original choreography.

Tau Phi

Consisting of fifteen juniors and seniors who have contributed to Sweet Briar through scholarship and service, Tau Phi is the campus honorary society. Its members promote intellectual growth of the College through the Lectures Committee and by organizing other events; they frequently work together with their rivals, the ghostly Chung Mungs.

President: Amy Whitney

Unity

By sponsoring various events on campus throughout the year, Unity once again unified, nurtured, and involved the campus community in order to teach multi-cultural understanding.

President: Ameka Reeves, Intisar Abdel-Alim

Vixen Preventing Animal Cruelty

As Sweet Briar's only animal rights and protection group, the Vixen PAC strive for understanding and solutions to problems ranging from overpopulation and strays to animal testing for commercial products. They have a strong mission and try to reach out to the Sweet Briar campus as well as surrounding communities.

President: Kathlyn Pierce

WNRS Radio Station

Growing to a range which included Lynchburg, 89.9 FM was stronger this year with deejays hosting radio shows full of music which appealed to the student body.

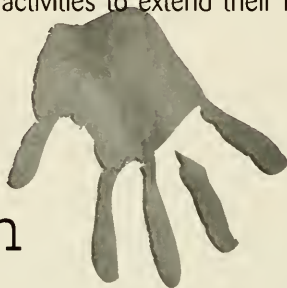

General Manager: Kyle DuVall

Station Manager: Erin Alberda

Young Democrats

Constantly striving to educate people about political thought and activity, the Young Democrats attended a Virginia Young Democrats conference and hosted an Annual Intercollegiate Gala along with other lunch discussions and activities to extend their knowledge and enthusiasm to the students.

Briar Patch

While trying to set a record in print of the people, events and activities, and changes that happened over the year, one of the Sweet Briar yearbook's core goals still remained to provide a gift to the students which they would treasure and enjoy. The year was full of changes for the Briar Patch staff itself, and the book was published in the spring as opposed to coming out during the following fall semester.

"As the captain I have to say that we had an awesome group of girls. We had a lot of heart, and we stuck in there. Luck just wasn't on our side this year. I think our biggest enemy this year was INJURIES! I would like to give a special thanks to Aaron and Eddie, our Assistant coaches. My favorite memory would have to be the walkie talkie games on the vans -- 'I going to the beach...' -- Well I definitely think that staying [at Sweet Briar] first semester to play soccer with a great group of girls was worth every minute."

VOLLEYBALL

Dear Hunter,

May God bless and keep you always,
May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others
And let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars
And climb on every rung,
May you stay forever young,
Forever young, forever young,
May you stay forever young.

May you grow up to be righteous,
May you grow up to be true,
May you always know the truth
And see the lights surrounding you.
May you always be courageous,
Stand upright and be strong,
May you stay forever young,
Forever young, forever young,
May you stay forever young.

May your hands always be busy,
May your feet always be swift,
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift.
May your heart always be joyful,
May your song always be sung,
May you stay forever young,
Forever young, forever young,
May you stay forever young.

F. Hunter McOwen

CONGRATULATIONS!
WE LOVE YOU,
MOM, DAD, MORGAN & WHITNEY

Sarah K. Riggs
and her Morgan, Great Imagination -- "Magic"

*From Georgia, to North Carolina, Alabama and the Bluegrass of Kentucky
To Sweet Briar, the Shenandoah Valley, Academics, Riding Council, ARC (Angel), music.*

Introduced the Barn to its first registered Morgan who was dubbed "pony" and Who demonstrated what "heart" is all about.

*Then to Massachusetts and on to Scotland --
The University of St. Andrews, ancient burgh, tradition, Scottish roots International students, new friends, new horizons, travels in Europe.*

Back to Sweet Briar, seclusion, Southern traditions, kindred spirits, honor, Violin, new challenges, Senior Year.

Epitome of honor, honesty, dedication, scholarship, friendship with a Romantic's view of life -- our "Anne of Green Gables" --

Presently searching for the ideal vocation to fulfill your purpose -- Always the "light of our lives."

Proud we are of you, and success we pray for you in your future endeavors, Whatever they may be --

*Love always,

You set your hopes high!
And reached for a star!
You dared to discover
The person you are!
Now, focus your vision
Beyond what you see,
Give all your best,
Be the best you can be!

We love you and are so proud of you.

You come from pioneer stock, descended from women who walked westward across a continent and forged a home for their families from their backbreaking labor and sheer determination.

When you chose your own testing ground, you went East, to Sweet Briar. You matched yourself against the humanities, languages, sciences and social sciences.

Your greatest test came in January of your junior year when you shattered the bones in both wrists. The surgeon said, "Stay home, rest." But you came back to school, held together with grafted bone, titanium pins and fiberglass casts, barely able to manipulate a pencil, handle a fork, or turn a page. And still you came. Helped on by your teachers, co-workers, friends at near and family afar, you came. You succeeded. I see that glint of gritty determination in your eyes. I behold yet another pioneer woman, equal to any challenge.

We love you, Bear,
Mom, Dad and Emily

THE SUNSHINE OF OUR LIFE

*As they say, you've come a long way baby...
And you did it with style.
By trying to be the best you can be,
You have achieved beyond your personal goals.
We couldn't be prouder or happier for you...
And may you always walk in the footprints
Of the Lord, for His love will never die.
Love you

Bonne Chance! J'tiem mon petite chou!!

As a baby you were a joy!

As a little girl you were audacious!

As an adolescent you were an opportunity for my personal growth!

And as a young woman you are bright and beautiful, compassionate and strong!

I am so very proud of you, and always remember that I am here for you.

Mom

Leslie Gray Sidwell

Leslie, our beautiful girl, what joy you put in our lives -- always be happy -- always be smiling, we love you.

Thanks and appreciation to...

All of the family members and friends who expressed their care, support, pride, and love throughout these pages, especially Rosemarie Clark, for her additional donation to the Briar Patch publication.

The hard-working and dedicated staff members of the yearbook -- for their hours of commitment and, of course, their initial ideas for the theme and continuous suggestions.

Sweet Briar students for their words of commendation and recommendation regarding the yearbook.

Friends like Meredith Taylor, Lindsay Keller, Jenn McDonough, Megan Ogilvie, and "the group" for their patience and encouragement. And to family, for their eternal presence.

Kristen Lee Caldwell

You are one of our two special angels. We're so very proud of the little girl all grown up to be a wonderful young woman!

You'll always have all our love and best wishes.

We are proud of your many accomplishments and know you will make your dreams come true!

Congratulations!

Love you --
Mom, Dad
and Tim's watching too!

Brieanne Vogler

Brie, you earned your graduation day. Enjoy and celebrate. We celebrate with you, and we are proud. This is one of life's large days. Your accomplishments fill a long but thankfully an unfinished list. Placed one to the other, they are your path leading from Sweet Briar to yet another place of learning, service and challenge. Travel along your path is one of life's large requirements. Placed one to the other, joining the paths of others, great promise for a life well lived is foretold. That is the large, unfinished mystery of life. Unwind your mystery, Brie. Celebrate all its intersections, way stations, and the good company of people you meet. We love you, and our thoughts are with you always.

Though they were far from winning the Briar Bowl, Psychology professor Tim Loboschefski's team -- Vanessa Corry, Meredith Taylor, Allison Clark, and Nicole Redwine -- arguably had the most fun.

While still applying makeup, Sophomore Jorgee Boyles chats briefly before the Fall Dance Concert.

Kaneia Mayo, Intisar Abdel-Alim, Ameka Reeves, and Alicia Boldt let their voices be heard during Music Video Mania, one of the many fun events on campus this year.

Lacrosse players Jackie Devine '03 and Ebeth McGovern '01 have a water-bottle fight after a practice.

A daily, but inconspicuous, part of every Sweet Briar student's life quickly became the center of attention. Trees caused more controversy than can be remembered when students, faculty, and Board members questioned forestry management of Sweet Briar's land.

First Year Anne Mohana and Junior Lindsay Keller find space in one of the tents that sprung up around Prothro for a picture amidst the Gala celebration crowd.

Anime Club

Newly formed this year, the Anime Club made a strong emergence onto campus by sponsoring viewings of selected anime titles throughout the year. In general, club members watched and critiqued Japanese animation, "anime," and other related areas such as 1980's cartoons, comic books, and trading cards. Their sponsor was a newcomer himself, Professor David Orvos.
